A Dedication

that is a Foreword

To a priest and spiritual father, the epitome of School Spirit, this yearbook is respectfully dedicated. An optimist by nature, it was Father Sprague's avowed task to point out to the students "What's Right with the School." He could look on the accomplishments of youth and share their problems and, at the same time, realize something of the wonder of both. He could make the student appreciate his talents, or the lack thereof, and yet not be content with himself until he had made the best of them. "School Spirit" was Father's byword, and prayer, his secret weapon. He gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of youth by looking for the best in others and by giving the best he had. He lived well, laughed often, and loved much. His life was an inspiration and his memory, a benediction.

Gonzaga men are we . . . and true

Gonzaga's "men of experience", the Junior Class, maintained the high standard they set in their previous years. The "A" testimonials of Herlihy, McDonald, DeFelice and Brodersen are but one instance. The Juniors sparked the varsity football team with DeFelice, Wiltzius, Workcuff, Wayerski, Mahar, and Liptac. McDonald and DeFelice competed in Senior Elocution. Varsity basketball witnessed the efforts of Olson, Brodersen, Gariepy and Mellick. Flynn and McDonald helped uphold Gonzaga's famed debate record. The Gonzagan received help from Pauly, Meagher, McDonald and Herlihy. Olson, Gariepy, Liptac and DeFelice played baseball for the "A" squad, while Pauly, McCormick, Mahar, Healy and Thompson sparked varsity track and Dube played leading golf. Casey and Stach lent their managing abilities to Gonzaga's athletic teams. DeFelice and Thompson participated in Sock and Buskin plays. The Luigian Ad Staff received valuable help from Mertens, Trunkey, and Meagher. As a final manifestation of true Gonzaga effort, Leitch, Volk, and Vedelago graduated from a difficult three year course.

The Sophomores showed their dramatic skill and enthusiasm with the winning Gonzaga Nite skit. The Luigian and Gonzagan staffs were aided by Mauk, Raney, Kaonis, Walterskirchen, McKenna, Durgan and Duggan. The second year men were represented in the Glee Club, Band and Science Club. "A" Squad basketball was bolstered by Seitz and Bourbeau. Walterskirchen, Brown, Auvil and O'Connor found spots on the "B" Squad. Kaonis, Brown, Glass, Von Holt and Yuse represented the Sophomores on the track squad. On the baseball diamond were Jones, Bourbeau and Seitz, who turned in superb performances. Durgan starred in golf and Dunning dominated the tennis courts. The Sophomores exhibited their loyalty by topping the Curtis Drive, and by winning the Loyalty Cup.

Putting aside the things of a child '54

Quickly acclimating themselves to the atmosphere charged with Gonzaga spirit, the yearlings reacted with scholarly extracurricular and athletic enthusiasm. The brain trust of Myers, Meighan, Powers, Peterson, Frazier and Osterkamp garnered perfect scholastic records. Kimbrough, Myers, Riley, Quinn, Bruya, and Gibson sparked a freshmen football squad to a tie for the city crown. Foley, Bruya, Myers, Zeller and Dhainens led the green basketballers to a successful season. The school publications felt the infant touch with the help of Feeder, Robinson, Murphy and Riggins. A fine Gonzaga spirit will be a prouder spirit—thanks to the class of '54.

DEBATE CLUB

Gonzaga's Debate Squad ended one if its most active and successful seasons this year with more than a dozen trophies and awards tucked safely away in the high school's trophy case.

At the Seattle tournament Upton and O'Rourke placed first in debate and O'Rourke won the Impromptu cup. The Gonzaga University tourney gave the team six more awards as McDonald was named the tourney's outstanding debater and placed first in Oratory. Cozzetto and McMahon won in the Dramatic Reading division and O'Rourke and Upton placed high in Impromptu and Extempore. Flynn, McDonald, Upton and O'Rourke, turning in a last splurge of wins, were barely edged from the first place spot in the Eastern Washington Debate League in early February. Whitworth marked the Zags' second tournament victory as McDonald and Flynn defeated Marycliff in an interesting finals debate. The Debaters also showed outstanding success in the N.I.C.E., and Pullman tourneys.

JIM UPTON and John O'Rourke won top honors in the Seattle University Debate Tournament.

Although in the first season of Spokane's new Memorial Stadium, Gonzaga failed to retain the football crown, final statistics revealed the Zag's passing and rushing attack to be the league's best. Likewise quarterback Skip Hunting was the league's high scorer, and Jerry Garcea the leading ground gainer. Not only were these two chosen on the All City first team, but Garcea was elected Captain of the eleven. The All City second team included Jim Gowanlock, Bob Helbling, Otis Liptac, Chuck Beckel, and Don Curran, who was chosen honorary Captain of the second squad. In addition, Chuck Beckel and Hunting were chosen to play in the Tri-City vs. State tilt in August. Though the team was small, the spirit was great, and Gonzaga is proud of those 1950 "brawny bullpups":
